QUESTION WORDING: Which of these statements come closer to your own opinions—The Whitewater allegations are important indicators of Bill Clinton's character and ability to serve as President, or the Whitewater allegations are not relevant to Bill Clinton's ability to serve as President?

METHODOLOGY

A total of 1,001 adults were interviewed by telephone nationwide by live interviewers calling both landline and cell phones. Among the entire sample, 30% described themselves as Democrats, 23% described themselves as Republicans, and 47% described themselves as independents or members of another party.

All respondents were asked questions concerning basic demographics, and the entire sample was weighted to reflect national Census figures for gender, race, age, education, region of country, and telephone usage.

Crosstabs on the following pages only include results for subgroups with enough unweighted cases to produce a sampling error of +/- 8.5 percentage points or less. Some subgroups represent too small a share of the national population to produce crosstabs with an acceptable sampling error. Interviews were conducted among these subgroups, but results for groups with a sampling error larger than +/-8.5 percentage points are not displayed and instead are denoted with "NA".

Question 20A
As you may have heard, Donald Trump is being sued by former students of Trump University over whether the classes offered by the school lived up to their descriptions. Trump has publicly criticized the federal judge handling the case, saying that he cannot oversee the lawsuit fairly because he is Mexican and several of Trumps policy positions are critical of Mexicans and the Mexican government. Do you think Trumps criticism of the judge was appropriate or inappropriate?
